

Carlisle Quakers welcome enquiries and requests for the use of the Meeting House from individuals, groups and organisations whose work we as Friends might wish to support. In general terms, we support self-development, community and charitable activities of a non-commercial (non-profit) nature. There are no special discounts for particular organisations or groups.

These rooms are normally available for booking:

When requesting a room booking, please provide relevant details of your organisation, the contact person, the invoicing address, and the nature of your proposed activities, the room and times requested. Normally we conduct correspondence by email.

We issue invoices monthly to room hirers. All charges are at the discretion of the Bookings Coordinator. Payment is requested within 21 days from invoicing. Any breakages, damage or additional cleaning that is required will be charged additionally to the hirer. Failure to pay on time may lead to the cancellation of further bookings.

Payments. These can be by BACS direct to our bank account (Carlisle Quaker Meeting, Sort code 16-52-21, A/c 52209521) or by cheque payable to 'Carlisle Quaker Meeting'. In the case of payments by BACS please give the invoice number as the reference. Cheques should be left at the Meeting House for the attention of the Bookings Coordinator. For those who have to pay by cash, the cash must be brought to the Meeting House between 10:00 and 10:30 on Sundays and handed to the treasurer or his deputy. NOTE: On the first occasion of using the Meeting House, payment is required at the time of the booking.

Cancellations. If you find it necessary to cancel a booking, you should notify us as soon as possible, as it may prevent us accepting an alternative booking. If you do not advise us of a cancellation before the day preceding the day in which your booking has been made you will be liable for payment, unless there are exceptional circumstances, and by agreement.

If you need time to prepare or set up equipment before the start of your gathering, or allow time for the room to become warm, please include that period when requesting your booking.

On arrival, If you become a regular user you will be supplied with a key (deposit of £5.00) against the name of the group leader, and the key must not be given to anyone else, and must not be copied in any circumstances. If your group ceases to meet on a regular basis the key must be handed back. For your first booking, or if you are only using the premises occasionally, please make arrangements for access to the building with the Bookings Coordinator. Please see the agreement form attached. If you are only an occasional user of the Meeting House you will obtain the key from the key safe at the front of the Meeting House. The key must be returned to the safe before departure. The combination for the safe must be kept confidential. [Note that you have to use the code to close the safe!]

On departure, all rooms must be tidied, the kitchen left clean, and all furniture restored to its original layout. Please leave the building fully secure and locked with windows closed.

Please turn off all lights. (Note that the ones in the lobby and corridor work automatically). Please turn off the heating if you have switched it on. Note that the front door may need pulling to until it is locked. Please check from the outside that the door is locked. If you have had a key from the safe, please return it to the key safe.

Heating The heating in the Meeting House is normally left switched off. The heating is controlled from a programmer in the lobby. Isolators for the individual heaters must not be used, and the thermostats on heaters MUST NOT be adjusted. There are instructions on the programmer on the wall above it, but on your first visit the Bookings Coordinator will show you how to work the heating controls.

Safety Hirers are responsible for their group's safety while on the premises, and should pay attention to the condition of any electrical equipment (e.g. projector) that is brought on to the premises.

Hire of any room includes the use of the kitchen facilities for refreshments. You need to provide your own tea, coffee, milk, etc. You are not permitted to use the oven or the microwave.

Please respect the building as a place of Quaker worship. Alcohol, smoking and gambling (including raffles, lotteries, tombolas, etc.) are not permitted.

We seek to be fully welcoming to everyone without distinction. Our premises have disabled access including a toilet for people with disabilities. Access for wheel chairs is via the rear door. We can provide a hearing loop in the main meeting room.

We have a small on-site car park. During morning and afternoon sessions parking is limited to the leader of the group who will be issued with a parking permit on request, but in the evening up to four cars may park without permits.

We regret that we do not have WiFi and TV projection facilities .

We have our own comprehensive Quaker policy for Safeguarding Children and Vulnerable Adults. Where hirers allow children, young people or vulnerable adults onto the premises, you must have your own safeguarding arrangements in place. You must confirm to us in writing that you have such a policy of your own, or that you are willing to use our policy which available at <http://www.cumberlandquakers.org.uk/Policieshtm>
